

Mission to Honduras

Spanish School

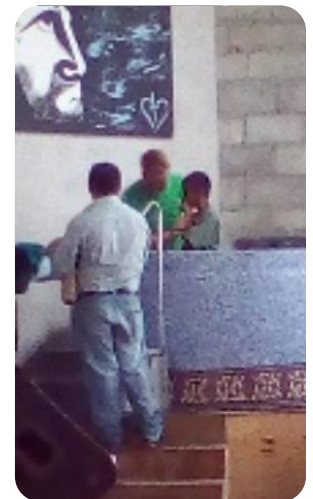

Things are going well here in Honduras. Last month I was taking Spanish lessons at P.L.F.M School in Antigua Guatemala, there I was able to work one on one with a fluent Spanish teacher learning the grammatical tenses, but also just having conversations in Spanish, learning about his life and culture while also talking about the area's different religions. It was a great experience to see the cultural differences and lifestyles but primarily having a jump start into the Spanish language.

D.E.S.E.O and Corquin

After finishing Spanish classes, I returned to Honduras and went straight to work with the DESEO group. They go out to 15 different schools a week teaching the kids important lessons in hygiene, values, respect, objectivity, and most importantly God. Also, that week the DESEO team challenged several schools that have soccer teams to soccer matches. (We won every match.) It is important to form a relationship with the students and gain their confidence so that we can teach them. Later on, I finally got to see my new home and get settled in Corquin for the first time since I arrived in Honduras. The work in the city of Corquin has been growing, during the past 2 weeks we had 5 people commit their lives to God and were baptized.

Mission to Honduras

C.R.E.O.

To improve my Spanish, meet some of the people from Santa Rosa and Corquin, and to have some more Bible study, this past week I attended the CREO Bible Boot Camp. Taking Bible Boot Camp is not easy when all of it is in Spanish and your primary language is English. However, in the end, it helped me improve my Spanish while also gaining more knowledge of the Bible. And I passed the class! CREO is a church leadership and spiritual training program. They work with the local adults who will then go out and teach in the communities.

Thanks for your Support!

Now that I am in Corquin, I am starting my journey in evangelism, meeting the locals, learning Spanish, and soon leading Bible studies. Thanks for supporting me in this mission to bring God's glory and more lives for Christ. None of this is possible without your support.

Thanks

Joshua (Donnie) Guill
